I love coming home from work and devouring it. I love feeding my kids and being made to feel like the best mother and wife ever. This is what I like best about motherhood. I wake up excited, excited for the day ahead, excited for my family, excited to be eating breakfast and thankful for the day. If you're like me, you like to get to the grocery store in a little bit of an "I'm trying to pretend I don't have kids yet" mindset. It can be a bit of a pain, to say the least, to explain to your kids that they have to get up in the middle of the night to go to the store and come home with Daddy, and then sometimes Daddy is not home (and they have to ride their bike), and then they are spending half their money on $3.50 of coffee, and you will be home before the stores open. And then you have to make breakfast
